NEWS OF THE DAY

An attempt was recently made to kill Senor Ossario-Callardo, who was governor at Barcelona, Spain, at the time of the disorders of 1909. The former governor escaped, and in his stead an inoffensive citizen was shot dead.

Love for two sixteen-year-old girls, neither of whom knew of the other's existence, prompted John McFadden, of Greensburg, Pa., to kill Anna Lutz and himself as they sat in an automobile near Lgioler, Pa. In McFadden's pocket was a note saying that Bertha Milligan, of Lambert, Pa., could tell the cause of the tragedy. To Coroner A. H. McMurray, Miss Milligan said that McFadden had written her a letter telling her he was going to kill "the other girl" and himself.

But for the timely action of Governor Cole L. Blease, in knocking a pistol from the hand of a stranger, who was struggling to use it upon Representative C. T. Fortner, of Spartanburg, S. C., the trip of the General Assembly to Charleston, might have been marred by a killing yesterday. Trouble occurred between Fortner and a man who was annoying women who were under the representative's charge when the legislative special was nearing Columbia. When the stranger drew a pistol Fortner grabbed it by the other end The Governor, who had been talking with Fortner, knocked the weapon from the hand of Fortner's antagonist and then quieted the representative. Just before the train reached the depot in Columbia the author of the trouble who is said to have been beating his way from Charleston, jumped off the train and disappeared.

The Japanese House of Representatives has adopted the budget which provides an oppropriation of $62,000,000 for naval expansion within the next five years. Political disturbances today were reported from Osaka. Crowds swarmed about the government buildings there, crying, "down with the ministry." Soldiers had to be called out to restore order.

Five children, three boys and two girls, were born today to Mrs. Bertha Drewery, wife of a Spencer county, Ky., farmer. The two girls died.

PRESENTS SUFFRAGE CAUSE

Legislative Committee Listens to Arguments of Women.

Richmond, Feb. 13—The cause of woman suffrage was presented before the House Committee on Privileges and Elections yesterday afternoon and last night by a number of women speakers. The need of remedial legislation of shorter working hours for women, of compulsory education, of better sanitation and of more efficient schools were urged as the reason that women need the ballot for their own protection, and for the benefit and betterment of the children they bear.

The committee is understood to be opposed to any change in the suffrage clause in the Constitution, but has agreed to report the bill either favorably or unfavorably at once Stress was laid by the speakers on the contention that they do not ask the Virginia Legislature to vote for woman suffrage.

All they ask is that the issue be referred to the qualified male voters of the State, in the shape of a constitutional amendment, just as men who are neither dry in their personal habits or convictions are voting to submit to the voters of the State the question of prohibition or the continued sale of liquor

Delegate S. H. Love, of Lunenburg was the only speaker against suffrage.

REMEMBER THE POOR.

Co-Operative Charities Make Earnest Appeal to Community.

At the last meeting of the Co-operative Charities Association, a depleted and almost exhausted treasury was the subject of most importance, and it was decided that a call would have to be made upon the helpfulness and generosity of our citizens for additional funds to carry on the work of relief.

Although the weather has not been as severe as in former winters, the Co-operative Charities, the Relief Committee and St. Vincent de Paul Society, all acting in harmony, and with the utmost care to give relief to the worthy poor and destitute, have been taxed to their utmost resources.

The past years of our work is a guarantee that it has not been in vain, or that generosity has ceased to be virtue among our people.

Shall we close our work now when the conditions indicate severe weather? You, kind friends must answer this question.

Lee Camp Hall will be open for contributions of all kinds, on Tuesday, February 17th, from 10 o'clock A. M., until 1 o'clock p. m.

Clothing, groceries, fuel or money is solicited.

Let us all remember the poor who have no human helper. Let there be no suffering among us if we as individuals can help to prevent it. There will not be if each one who has the comforts of life, will share just a little with those who have not, most of whom are children, unable to provide for themselves and entirely dependent.

LOSS OF THE MONROE.

Skipper of Lost Steamship Says Neither He Nor Capt. Berry Could Prevent Collision.

Philadelphia, Pa., Feb. 13.—The government's investigation to determine the responsibility for the loss of 41 lives at sea when the Merchants and Miners' liner Nantucket sunk the Old Dominion steamer Monroe off the Virginia capes, was resumed here yesterday with the trial of Capt. Oswald Berry, of the Nantucket.

The investigation which is being conducted before Capt. D. M. Sargent and Capt. D. M. Howard, composing the local board of United States steamboat inspectors assisted by Albert Lee Thurman, special solicitor of the Department of Commerce, has brought out the fact that if the wireless operators on both ships had been in communication with the other the accident might have been averted.

Captain Edward E. Johnson, of the Old Dominion liner Monroe, continuing his testimony today, startled the big audience by declaring that "under the circumstances" neither he nor Capt. Berry could have averted the collision.

"I can figure out no course of action which, considering the conditions of fog, the shortness of time and my lack of knowledge of the actual course of the Nantucket, could have prevented the collision," said Capt. Johnson. "Nor do I se tha tCapt. Berry could have done anything to avoid the collision after he realized the proximity of the Monroe."

Norfolk, Va., Feb. 13.—Clarence H. Davis, of New York, a survivor of the ill-fated steamer Monroe, left here Wednesday night to testify in the investigation being conducted by the government, to place the responsibility for the collision between that ship and the Nantucket.

Mr. Davis gave as the opinion of several of the crew on the Nantucket that the vessel was making rapid speed through the fog in order to deliver 21 car loads of potatoes in Baltimore by Saturday morning. The potatoes, according to Mr. Davis, had to be distributed throughout the South to be planted early this month.

He also declared that Captain Johnson, of the Monroe, did not get his feet wet. He says he stepped in the only life boat that was successfully launched from the Monroe fully dressed and when he saw him on the Nantucket, he was "snug as a bug in a rug."

Ruth E. Johnston, 17 years old, of Newark, N. J., bled to death after an operation to remove adenoids and tonsils.

MANY INJURED IN RIOTS IN TOKYO

Police Make Raids and Arrest Over Two Hundred.

CAPITAL IS AROUSED.

Japanese Diet Takes Drastic Measures—Naval Scandal and Anti-Tax Agitation in Evidence.

Tokyo, Feb. 13.— Clubs and sabres in police hands subdued anti-government agitators and 200 were arrested in fierce rioting throughout the city tonight. Many men were injured by the officers.

Shortly after midnight 500 policemen charged a mob of several thousand anti-tax advocates who were clamoring against the diet for sustaining the government in the naval scandal.

Several opposition newspapers, which criticised the government, have been suppressed and their editors jailed.

The government, encouraged by the defeat in the diet of the resolution of want of confidence, is adopting drastic means to put down the rioting and the police and troops are armed with authority to use any force necessary to disperse mobs.

SUPERVISORS' POWER.

Bill Designed to Relieve Calender of Legislature.

Richmond, Feb. 13—After consultation with a number of authorities, Delegate W. A. Land, of Nottoway, has offered a bill designed materially to enlarge the powers and duties of county Boards of Superivisors, thus providing for local home rule for the various counties of the State, and at the same time relieve the calendar of the General Assembly of an enormous amount of special, local and private legislation which now takes up most of the regular sessions. In general terms, Mr. Land said it was his purpose to give to the supervisors of counties powers similar to those exercised by the councils of towns.

"The only objection I have met with," said Mr. Land, "is that in some counties the supervisors are not the type of men whose powers and duties should be enlarged. My answer is that if there be any such county, it is better to elect another Board of Supervisors. I should be sorry to think that there is any county in Virginia that cannot find a capable body of men to handle its local affairs.

The act confers on the Boards of Supervisors of the various counties, by and with the approval of the judge of the Circuit Court, who is given a veto power somewhat similar to that of Mayors of cities, powers of legislation in all matters pertaining solely to their respective counties so far as not prohibited by the Constitution. The supervisors are given the same powers as to borrowing money, issuing bonds and incurring obligations as are granted to the councils of towns under existing laws

The supervisors will have power to enact local legislation for the working and repairing of roads and prescribing the loads to be drawn, in so far as such provisions do not conflict with the general State laws on this subject; shall have the power to declare streams natural boundry lines between certain limits; shall have the power to grant permission for erection of bridges or dams not in conflict with the general statute, and where two counties are affected the right to erect a bridge or dam shall be submitted to a joint meeting of the supervisors of the counties affected. With the approval of the judge of the country, the supervisors shall have the power to enact local regulations, rules, and ordinances for the government of the county, not in conflict with the Constitution, after same have been published once a week for four weeks in some newspaper to be designated by the judge of the court. The clerk of the county must keep a record of all legislative acts of the board, which shall be at all times open to public inspection, and shall forward a certified copy to the Secretary of the Commonwealth for record. Each member of the Board of Supervisors shall receive $5 a day and mileage as compensation while sitting, provided that not more than $60 shall be paid in any one year. The board must designate a fixed day of meeting. Power is given the supervisors in cases of freshets, fires or epidemics to make temporary loans.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

There were no cases for trial in the Police Court this morning.

A meeting of the officers of the Old Dominion Boat Club was held last night at the rooms of the Chamber of Commerce, at which arrangements were made for holding a smoker.

Mr. Birrell has introduced a bill in the House of Delegates to permit counties having a population greater than 300 inhabitants per square mile, as shown by the United States census to bond for 18 per cent of the assessed value in such county.

VALENTINE TABLEAUX.

Large Audience Gathers in Norton Memorial Hall Last Evening.

St. Paul's Sunday school gave a very interesting entertainment last evening at the Norton Memorial Chapel. The proceeds of the entertainment are to go towards the refurnishing of the Sunday school library. The first half of the program was a series of twelve valentine tableaux, introduced by the following stanzas:

It used to be in olden times
That valentines were things
Of hearts and darts
And doves and loves
Posed on lace paper rings

Now modern maids of tango tastes
Would take offense at these ,
'Tis diamond whirls
And strings of pearls
That they want, if you please.

We'll draw the curtain back tonight
Some several years and see
Some valentines
Of olden times
A treat for memory!

The bright little attractive faces peeping from amidst the "hearts and darts" and "lace paper frames" and the lads and lassies from other climes which came to bear the audience St. Valentine's greetings, made pictures as pretty as one's imagination could fancy

The last half of the program under the supervision of Miss Mary Lindsey entitled "The March of the Months," was most attractively rendered. The becoming costumes were beautiful to see, and dear child voices were sweet to hear. The dialogue, interspersed with song and march, made a most enjoyable cantata-like play, and the audience was most enthusiastic with encores and hearty hand claps.

MILITANTS BURN LIBRARY

Also Try to Explode Bomb And Threaten Home Secretary McKenna With Death.

Birmingham, England Feb, 13—The Carnegie Library at Northfield, Worcestershire, six miles south of Birmingham was destroyed yesterday by fire set by an arson squad of suffragetts. All the books were burned and only the shell of the building was left standing Papers were found strewn around the place bearing the words. "To start our new library, give women the vote."

A tube charged with high explosives and covered with a quantity of suffrage literature was found on a window sill of Moor Green Hall, Highbury near hear, the residence of Arthur Chamberlain, brother of the Rt. Hon Joseph Chamberlain.

A fuse attached to the bomb was connected with a photographer's lamp in which a candle had been burning. The flame, however, was extinguished by the wind before it reached the fuse

TEXAS BLIZZARD HEADS THIS WAY

Snow and More Cold Weather in Prospect in Next Few Hours.

NINE PERSONS DEAD.

Little Likelihood of Any Material Change in Conditions For Another Week.

Washington, D. C. Feb, 13—Unusually low temperatures were registered yesterday in New England and New York. In the former the lowest temperature since the beginning of Weather Bureau observation was recorded at a number of places, the temperature falling to four degrees below zero at Nantucket.

The cold enveloped the entire East, and is expected to be succeeded by a snowstorm from Texas during the next 24 hours. Real winter weather is with the snowstorm, the Weather Bureau declares, and it was predicted that flakes would be falling over the Middle Atlantic and Southern New England States by tonight, if nothing interrupts the Texas blizzard on its way.

The cold wave continued with full force yesterday with high humidity making it extremely uncomfortable, although there was practically no wind. The lowest temperature recorded at the Government station was 5 degrees, at 7 A. M. Later in the day the temperature rose gradually, reaching 16 at 3.30 P. M., but falling away again' He picked up an ax and again in the evening going down to 8 degrees at 10 o'clock

There are no signs anywhere that the weather will moderate to any large extent for a week at least.

Nine persons perished in New York from the cold wave.

Floyd Courthouse, Va. Feb, 13—Revenue officers made the most successful moonshine raids in that vicinity for twenty years when they went to Charity, in Patrick county, today and captured two men, one an alleged murder suspect, and destroyed a large quantity of liquor taken at five distilleries.

The prisoners are Home Bryant and Homer Ross, both young men. The revenue men say Bryant knows something of the murder of a moonshiner named Flynn, who was killed last December.

CITY'S WATER SUPPLY

State Official Pronounces Sheds and Appliances Unexcelled by Any in State

Richard Messer, State Sanitary Engineer of the Board of Health, of Virginia, was in this city yesterday, when he inspected the reservoir and watersheds of the Alexandria Water Company. Mr. Messer was greatly pleased with all he saw in connection with the city's water supply, pronouncing the same unexcelled in any other place in Virginia. He also was profuse in his praise of the purity of the water in Alexandria, and said the number of cases of typhoid fever was less than in other sections of the Old Dominion.

Alexandria has always enjoyed the reputation of having the purest water. The fact is often acknowledged by chemists who procure Cameron water for their purposes.

Several years ago there was some complaint of the water, but the cause was soon ascertained, and prompt action taken which in a short time restored to its normal condition.

In a short time the capacity of the water works will be greatly increased by the construction of a dam at Barcroft, and when this shall have been finished all anxiety concerning water famines during protracted droughts will have vanished.

MINSTREL TONIGHT

This is the night when the Famous Friskee Jubilee Singers are to make their first appearance in Alexandria. They have arrived here and have already made many friends. There has been a rush for tickets which shows that the public recognizes a good thing when they see it. There is every indication that there will be a full house. The program promises an unusually entertaining evening.

Laugh with us all tonight. The laugh will do you good and you will do good to the Alexandria Free Kindergarten, for which this is given, by laughing with us.

Remember the Westminister Building tonight at promptly 8 o'clock and come.

MANY AT CONFERENCE

Dr. S. D. Gordon Delivers Interesting Address on the Bible Last Night

The mid-winter Bible Conference was largely attended last evening when Dr. S. D. Gordon spoke. He took as his subject the first chapter of John's gospel, and declared that while the gospel of John is inspired of God in a special manner, nevertheless each Christian is writing a gospel, it is the gospel of personal living. Dr. Gordon gracefully referred to the power of a personal touch, he said God touched and saved the world by the power of a person—His Son. He urged all persons to write a worthy and helpful gospel of personal living. He gave, in the exposition of the chapter, many new, original and Striking thoughts. It was inspiring and illuminating throughout and the manner of his presentation made it very effective. He closed by narrating the story of "Laddie," illustrating the way some persons treat the Savior for it is said "He came to his own and His own received Him not." Dr. Gordon produced a profound impression upon the large congregation and his splendid address was deeply spiritual and devotional. There will be no meeting tonight on account of the weather.

WANT REDUCED RATES.

County Association Resents Observations of Railway Lawyer.

The brief, filed with the Interstate Commerce Commission by Jno S. Barbour, attorney for the Washington-Virginia Railway, asking that the appeal of the residents along the line for a reduction of rates be dismissed has brought forth a reply from the Alexandria County Public Service Corporation.

Mr. Barbour's brief among other things stated that the commuters want an entire seat in the car, want to pay no fare, all ride on the same car, and probably in the end to get a pension.

"The association considers that Mr Barbour must have indeed, a very weak case when he must fill up such an important document as his brief with such witty remarks."

PREVAILING POLAR WAVE.

Mercury in Some Thermometers Stood at Six Above Early this Morning

Last night was generally regarded as the coldest of the winter, and at an early hour this morning the heavens portended snow. The cold was intense, and the mercury in thermometers in certain exposed places was down to six above zero; in others ten and fourteen.

Considerable ice formed during the night and in many instances hydrants were frozen.

Snow began to fall between ten and eleven o'clock and the ground was soon covered.

YOU'LL CROW OVER 'GETS-IT" FOR CORNS.

It Will Startle You How "GETS-IT Gets Corns Every Time.

"One, two, three!" That's about as long as it takes you to apply "GETS It" the new-plan, simplest, surest corn cure the world has ever seen

"This Is No Place For a Cow. Her Corns Are All Gone. She Must Have Used 'GETS-IT.'"

Corn fussing is all over. Corns, corn pains and calluses are absolutely done for, from the minute you apply "GETS-IT". Forget the bother of useless plasters, greasy salves that spread and make toes sore and raw, little doughnut cotton rings, the press on corns, forget knives, razors, scissors, and the dangers of blood poison from drawing blood and the contraptions and harness that simply make corns worse. "GETS-IT" never hurts the flesh, never fails.

"GETS-IT" is sold by all druggists, 25c a bottle, or sent direct by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago.

A Distinctive New Blouse

Designed and Fashioned Personally by Paul Poiret, and reproduced by his maker in New York.

Paul Poiret Waists displayed here are not simply copies in design and fashion, but actual reproductions in fabrics, to the simplest detail of design and colorings, no feature is omitted; to do so would be to lose the originality which we wish to convey.

The blouse is of a broken barred white crepe, with the new and daringly simple cowboy collar and sash, the sash being finished with buckle in the back which makes it adjustable to any figure. The collar and sash are of colored figured embroidered voile, loose and shapeless, disclosing the careless grace typical of the cowboy type from which it is taken.

The whole effect is delightful and original, and to the woman who appreciates and desires a style that cannot be duplicated everywhere, and that is refined and becoming, as are all of Paul Poiret's wonderful and inimitable creations, this blouse should appeal very strongly.

We are displaying several other Paul Poiret designed Larry-made Waists, of Crepe de Chine, fancy cotton Crepe, and other modish materials; each one different, and to be seen in Washington only in this establishment.

ANXIOUS DAY FOR MANY.

Today, Friday the thirteenth of the month, has doubtless caused some people secret apprehension, and such will breathe easier after the clock in the City Hall steeple shall have tolled out the hour of midnight. An esteemed Richmond contemporary in referring to the many "dangers" incident to Friday, especially when it comes on the thirteenth day of the month, says:

"By all means do not walk under a ladder today, especially if the sidewalk is slippery. Do not look at the new moon over your left shoulder, particularly if it is cloudy and the moon is full.

"If you meet a cross-eyed colored man cross your fingers and, when you see a good opportunity, spit. Don't do it where a new policeman may see you. He may take it as a deliberate attempt to violate the spotless town ordinance and run you in.

"If you chance to spill salt you are lost, indeed. There is absolutely no hope, You might as well quit then and there, for the jinx has you."

There is a deep-rested superstition in many persons that dire trouble is liable to happen to those who start any enterprise on the thirteenth day of the month. Some refuse to take seats at dinner tables before first counting the number of the diners. An ocean steamer was recently forging its way across the Atlantic when the dinner bugle was sounded. As seasickness was raging, but few saloon passengers answered the call. Thirteen persons who had kept on their sea legs and defied mal de mer, appeared at the table and were about to take seats, when an anxious man of the party made the alarming discovery that they composed the fatal number. The horrors of visions of collisions with icebergs, rocks and derelicts, as well as fire filled the minds of all and no one of the party had the temerity to take his seat at the table. Finally it was determined to visit the steerage and invite one of that class of passengers to the saloon, the thirteen agreeing to pay the extra fare demanded, in order that the party might be composed of fourteen. They soon found a man to accept the invitation, after which the dinner proceeded.

CO-OPERATIVE CHARITIES MAKE AN APPEAL.

The snow is flying at last, accompanied by intense cold. Although the greater portion of the winter of 1913-1914 has been, practically minus this feature. While those blessed with full and plenty, look from well-heated drawing room windows at the falling flakes and hail them as "beautiful snow," they send a chill into the art of others whose coal bin and wood pile have been depleted as well as the meal barrel.

Bleak winter always catches a certain percentage in every place facing destitution. Improvidence may be urged in some cases, but not in all, as many suffer through no fault of their own. It is so in Alexandria, and the good people of the Associated Charities and the St. Vincent de Paul Society have many appeals for assistance.

But there is a limit to their resources, and the blizzard conditions now prevailing are increasing the number of eager applicants.

The appeal of these organizations, which will be found on the first page of the Gazette, will doubtless meet with the prompt response it deserves, and, according to Him who spake as man never spake, those having a part in the same shall receive their recompense at the resurrection of the just.

A VOICE FROM SALT RIVER.

Former Speaker Cannon, who went down in the landslide of November, 1912, although still wearing crape, is becoming restive, and sighs to be again in the House with his gavel and cigar. Yesterday he attempted to make certain people in Illinois believe that the country had made a mistake in relegating him and his coadjutors to the rear.

He attacked the present administration, but the bricks he threw were of the sun-baked variety, and, like shooting stars, disintegrated before they reached their mark.

The political graveyard is yawning for others who with the former speaker have played their parts and whose further services were respectfully declined when Woodrow Wilson's tidal wave swept them from their long ease of power.

Mr. Cannon seemed to have labored to find some weak point in the present administration. One molehill which took the form of a mountain in his microscope was the omission of the New Year's reception at the White House. He attempted to be pathetic when he told of Abraham Lincoln with his hands swollen from incessant greetings of New Year's callers, repairing to his office and after considerable trouble affixing his name to the emancipation proclamation which liberated four million negroes.

This proved to be a harmless bolt, as but few people at present are interested in the negro question.

FATALLY INJURED BY FALL

B. R. Snow of Charlottesville, Dies in Richmond from Fractured Skull

Richmond, Feb. 13—B. R. Snow forty years old, of Charlottesville, fell ten feet down the flight of stone steps leading from the Railroad Young Men's Christian Association building, Main and Sixteenth streets, Wednesday night at 11 o'clock, fractured his skull and died this morning at 2 o'clock.

Snow, who was said to have been drinking, was not at first thought to be seriously hurt. He was taken to the First Police Station, where he was examined by Dr. Robert Whitehead, City Hospital ambulance surgeon. He said that apparently the man had sustained merely a scalp wound and dressed it. He was unconscious, and was left upon a table in the cell room at the station. It was thought that his stupor was due to liquor.

About 1:45 o'clock Bicycle Policeman Matt glanced at Snow and observed an unusual palor about him. He promptly called in Desk Sergeant Sheppard and again a call was sent for the ambulance. Snow died shortly after Dr. Whitehead arrived, and Coroner Taylor was summoned.

Snow was said to have been employed at one time by the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway, but gave that up to assume clerical work in Charlottesville

MAIL CARRIER SUSPENDED

Willaim Soady and Edward Langley are Suspended Pending Inquiry

Norfolg, Feb, 13—Postmaster C. L. Wright has just suspended two mail carriers, one white man and one negro, against whom charges were brought in the courts here.

William H. Soady, 34 years old, of Berkley ward, a substitute carrier, was suspended pending the investigation by United States Commissioner Stephenson of a charge of perjury. Edward Langley, a negro regular carrier was suspended pending the investigation in the courts of a charge of forgery.

It is charged that Soady in taking the civil service examination swore he had never been convicted of any offense when he had been fined $10 for taking several string neckties out of a broken box of freight when a deck hand in the employ of the Old Dominion Steamship Company.

Soady is an Englishman by birth. He came to this country when a boy and was reared by a Berkley couple, whom Soady has been caring for in their old age as if they were his parents.

Soady has been leading an upright life and has been thought well of. Somebody seeing him as a substitute letter carrier reported that he had been fined for taking the string neckties from a broken box of freight.

Soady will now lose his position and will have to defend the criminal charges brought of perjury under oath when he swore he had never been convicted. Soady was appointed a substitute carrier July 1, 1913.

It is charged that Edward Langley who has been a carrier since 1904, forged the names of George S. Collins and Joseph S. Cannon to a note for $150.

ACCUSED OF ABDUCTING GIRL.

Greek Restauranteur and Chauffeur of Danville, Va., Arrested.

Danville, Va., Feb. 13.—Louis Brown, a Greek restauranteur, and R. H. Vaughan, a chauffeur, are in jail here, charged with abducting 17-year-old Bertha Privett, who arrived on an early morning train.

The girl came to the city to go to work and was accompanied by her mother, brother and stepfather, all of whom went into the waiting room at the depot.

After remaining in the station for a time the party went out to get breakfast. While the family was in the restaurant the Greek came in and urged the young girl to go out with him to his cafe. Once outside he requested her to enter a waiting automobile and when she demurred he picked her up and threw her into the machine, which immediately started off.

The police traced the two men who had occupied the machine and arrested them. Both stated that the girl left them unharmed, but the officers were of the opinion that Miss Privett had been the victim of the men and had then be secreted by them.

She was finally discovered in a street car poorly clad and suffering from cold, she gave most damaging testimony against the men.
